

REQUEST FOR SPECIAL THREE-YEAR CATCH-UP CALCULATION FOR GOVERNMENTAL 457(b) DEFERRED COMPENSATION

If you are within three years of the year in which you attain your plan's normal retirement age, you may be eligible to take advantage of a special catch-up contribution provision. You may be eligible to contribute an additional amount over the regular deferral limit in effect for the year (up to double the regular limit) to make up for years in which you did not contribute the maximum amount you were eligible to contribute under your current employer's 457(b) deferred compensation plan. You must also be currently employed and participating in your employer's 457(b) deferred compensation plan.

Participants are not permitted to use both the age-50 catch-up and the special three-year catch-up in the same year. The age-50 catch-up permits participants who attain age 50 (or older) during the year to contribute an additional amount over the regular deferral limit in effect for the year.

Please provide the requested information so that we can determine if you're eligible to make catch-up contributions. If you are eligible, TIAA will send you details about the additional amount you may contribute to your plan.

Please print using black ink.

3. DECLARATION OF NORMAL RETIREMENT AGE

This election establishes the three-year period during which you are eligible to make catch-up contributions to your employer's 457(b) plan. For example, if you state your normal retirement age will be in 2023, you may be able to make three-year catch-up contributions in 2020, 2021 and 2022.

I understand that:

- I can only make catch-up contributions in the three years immediately preceding the year of my declared normal retirement age.
- If my plan does not state a normal retirement age, I can declare my normal retirement age for any year during or after which I am eligible to receive unreduced benefits from my employer's pension plan (or a money purchase plan in which I participate and I am not eligible to participate in a defined benefit plan). However, it cannot be later than the year in which I attain age 70½. Note: Check with your employer to verify your plan's normal retirement age.
- I can only elect the special three-year catch-up provision once under this plan, even if fewer than all of the three taxable years were used.
- I should consult a tax advisor before declaring a normal retirement age.

Special rule: Qualified police officers and firefighters can select a normal retirement age earlier than other plan participants, but not earlier than age 40. This special rule is for a "qualified police officer or firefighter" as defined under section 415(b)(2)(h)(ii)(I) of the Internal Revenue Code as a participant with "at least 15 years of service as a full-time employee of any police or fire department which is organized by the State or political subdivision to provide police protection, firefighting services or emergency medical services for any jurisdiction within the State or political subdivision."

I select age , which I will attain in the year , as my normal retirement age for purposes of using the special three-year catch-up provision.

4. CALCULATING THE AMOUNT YOU CAN CONTRIBUTE

Your plan provides that, for one or more of the three years preceding the year you attain the plan's stated normal retirement age (as indicated above), you may be able to contribute more than the annual maximum limit for those years.

The formula provides that you may contribute the LESSER of:

- 1) Twice the annual limit in effect for the year or,
- 2) The annual limit in effect for the year plus any underutilized contribution limits from prior years during which you were eligible to participate but did not make the maximum annual contribution for those years.

Note: If you have contributed the maximum amount in each of the years that you were eligible to participate, you will not be able to make any catch-up contributions.

Section 4A below will help you determine whether or not you will be able to elect this special catch-up feature, as well as provide information for TIAA to perform the required calculation in order to determine the additional amount you may be able to contribute.

Total unused deferrals is the difference between the amount you were eligible to contribute to your current employer's plan since 1979 and the amount you actually contributed. Take into consideration all of the 457(b) plans in which you have participated.

 You must also include elective deferrals to another 457(b), 403(b), 401(k), SARSEP or SIMPLE IRA plan for years beginning before 2002, and for 2002 and after only to another 457(b) plan.
